this edition is based on the one in kavya-sangraha edited by jivananda vidyasagara. it has been compared with the motilal banarsidass edition (1983) containing the commentary of arjunavarmadeva. the number in parentheses at the end of the last line of each verse is the number of the verse in the motilal edition. there seems to be a great deal of variation in the order and numbering of the verses between the editions and the commentators. the order of the verses found in the kavya-sangraha forms the backbone of the order of the verses presented here, even though arjunavarmadeva considers some of the verses found in that edition to be interpolations. those suspect verses have been noted in the footnotes.

the parentheses in between verses contain citations for the major anthologies. these have been taken from sures chandra banerji's edition of sridharadasa's sadukti-karnamrta. the abbreviations for those anthologies are the following:

su. = subhasitaratnakosa, sad. = saduktikarnamrta, subh. = subhasitavali, su. = suktimuktavali, pad. = padyavali, sa. = sarngadharapaddhati

(these equivalences have been taken from the banerji edition of sad-ukti-karnamrta and the de edition of padyavali.)

text abbreviations

this edition is based on the one in kavya-sangraha edited by jivananda vidyasagara. it has been compared with the motilal banarsidass edition (1983) containing the commentary of arjunavarmadeva. the number in parentheses

at the end of the last line of each verse is the number of the verse in the motilal edition. there seems to be a great deal of variation in the order and numbering of the verses between the editions and the commentators. the order of the verses found in the kavya-sangraha forms the backbone of the order of the verses presented here, even though arjunavarmadeva considers some of the verses found in that edition to be interpolations. those suspect verses have been noted in the footnotes.

the parentheses in between verses contain citations for the major anthologies. these have been taken from sures chandra banerji's edition of sridharadasa's sadukti-karnamrta. the abbreviations for those anthologies are the following:

su. = subhasitaratnakosa, sad. = saduktikarnamrta, subh. = subhasitavali, su. = suktimuktavali, pad. = padyavali, sa. = sarngadharapaddhati
