

Comment by the unknown contributor:

Another, quite different version of this text is found in another file (Goraksa-satakam 1). The numbers of verses found in the other version are given in brackets. Many of the verses are from Hatha-yoga-pradipika and I would suspect that those not accounted for are taken from another text.

It is hard to believe that this text is the original Goraksa-sataka.

It looks more like someone was compiling verses from GS and HYP and other sources and never completed his mission.
